Take an Important First Look at GIPS 2010 Exposure Draft

With the GIPS 2010 Exposure Draft now available for public comment, it's important to make your voice heard. Come to the European GIPS Standards Conference on 11-12 February in London and participate in interactive discussion and comment about the proposed changes. Learn how your firm might be impacted and what the proposed changes might mean for compliance. In addition, learn about the implications of the current provisions that become effective on 1 January 2010.

For more information or to register, please visit the conference website or email programs@cfainstitute.org